

POSITIVE DAY NEWSPAPER

The Founding of Positive Day Newspaper

Positive Day Newspaper was started in November 2020 by Pinal Vasanwala Patel, who tired of the negativity surrounding news media decided to do something about it. She wanted to create a newspaper that could make people happy and remind them of the goodness that still exists in our world. Since its inception she has worked hard to build a website, a brand and garner clients. Positive Day did manage to become popular within certain circles where it was getting promoted until it fell into despair. Hina Hakim, Chelna Shah, Dharna Shah, Honey Thakkar and Gopi Majethiya formed the core team of Positive Day but throughout the years all of them had to leave for various reasons.

Early Success And Struggles

Unable to manage the tides and tribulations of news media which demand extensive attention and research, she was falling short of a dedicated, passionate and experienced team who would be willing to take her vision forward. In the two years since it launched she thought of shutting the platform down multiple times but was unable to do as she believed in the cause. A cause that would help uplift and empower is worth hanging onto and so she did. Her right hand man Parth Kotia also stuck with her and the project, he helped with talent acquisition and other places where she fell short but it was not enough.

Perky Podcast In Pandemic

During the pandemic, Positive Day Newspaper launched Perky Podcast which was able to attract extremely talented and versatile personalities for engaging interviews that were useful and resourceful for people to watch. Subhi Gupta the communicator of the company carries Perky Podcast with her excellent interpersonal and communication skills.

A RADICAL VISION FOR NEWS MEDIA

Siddharth Param who joined shortly after Harsha has managed to generate leads at an alarmingly fast pace with his immense knowledge after having worked in multiple start-ups.

Parth Kotia

This small news media team consisting of digital marketers, graphic designers and news writers aims to revolutionize the news media landscape with their radical and far fetched ideas that may take fruit some day. For now lets hope for the best for a newspaper that will only ever print positive news.

Pinal's dedication bore fruit when a dedicated team finally joined her in October 2022. Harsha Chhawchharia, a passionate young girl with a burning desire to make a name in news media, invested in the company and became a co-founder.

Since then Positive Day has gone on to grow to a team of eight talented individuals obsessed with delivering content with the highest levels of journalistic integrity. They aim to cater to their clients to the best of their abilities and provide them with unique coverage while ensuring that the readers get value from the content they are consuming.

Satwiksairaj Rankireddy-Chirag Shetty Pair Achieves Career-Best World No. 2 Ranking

The reigning Asian champions have had an exceptional badminton season, securing victories in three prestigious tournaments: the Korea Open (Super 500), Swiss Open (Super 300), and Indonesia Open (Super 1000), accumulating an impressive total of 87,211 points.

Following their recent triumph at the Korea Open, India's top men's doubles pair, Chirag Shetty and Satwiksairaj Rankireddy, achieved a remarkable milestone by reaching their career-best ranking of second place in the latest BWF (Badminton World Federation) rankings.

In their journey to this new career-high position, Satwik and Chirag surpassed the Chinese pair of Liang Wei Keng and Wang Chang, whom they had defeated in the semifinals of the Korea Open last week. Their consistent performance has propelled them to become one of the top men's doubles teams on the circuit.

What's even more impressive is their incredible track record this season. They have not lost a single final in any tournament and have maintained an exceptional 10-match unbeaten streak on the BWF World Tour. This extraordinary level of success demonstrates their skill, determination, and potential to compete at the highest levels of international badminton.

As they continue to achieve such remarkable results, the Indian men's doubles duo is undoubtedly one to watch, and their performances are garnering attention and admiration from badminton enthusiasts worldwide. Their hard work and dedication are paying off, and they are solidifying their place among the elite players in the highly competitive world of men's doubles badminton.

Are tired of the same old Bollywood Romance Trope? Check out these Four Indie Films from India's Finest Filmmakers.

With so many big-budget, high-production value, star-studded movies slated to be released in a year, it's easy to miss out on some of the smaller, low-budget films from studios and filmmakers known for producing great content. Here are four indie movies from India to keep on your radar.

Bittersweet - Marathi

Director Ananth Mahadevan's upcoming Marathi feature highlights the horrifying practice of female labour exploitation by Maharashtra's sugar barons, the state's wealthiest business. The film world premiered at the prestigious Busan International Film Festival 2020 today.

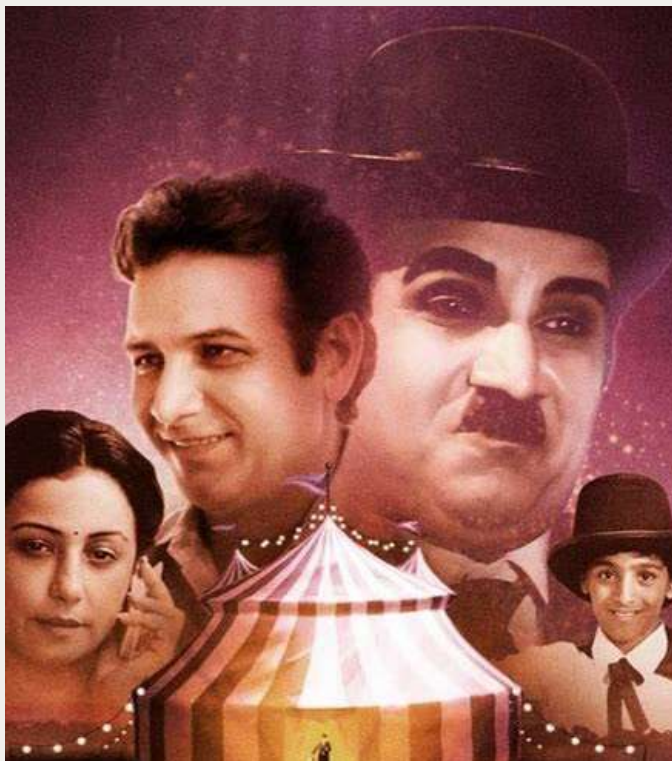

Ramsingh Charlie

Ramsingh, a Charlie Chaplin impersonator who has always lived the life of an artist, performs in a travelling circus. He is unexpectedly thrown into the giant circus of life where he must juggle his role as a father and that of a performer, all without a safety net.

Knock Knock Knock

Sitting in a sleepy cafe in Darjeeling, Dada is designing the perfect crossword when a young Nepali boy interrupts his work, eager to befriend him. But who is this boy? Someone's knocking, and Dada has to decide whether he will answer.

Nasir - Tamil

Based on a short story by writer Dileep Kumar, the Tamil indie feature is a story of a small-town salesman, but one that has a universal appeal.

Bridal Couture Trends: Unveiling the Enchanting Styles of 2023

FASHION

Introduction

The world of bridal couture is a realm of dreams and enchantment, where designers weave magic into every stitch, creating breathtaking gowns that transform brides into radiant goddesses on their special day. As we step into 2023, bridal fashion continues to evolve, embracing both timeless elegance and contemporary twists. In this article, we explore the latest trends in bridal couture, inspiring brides-to-be with the most captivating and on-trend styles for their weddings.

Ethereal Elegance: Regal Simplicity

The trend of "regal simplicity" is captivating the bridal couture world with its minimalist charm. Brides are opting for gowns that emphasize clean lines and luxurious fabrics like silk and satin, creating beautifully tailored silhouettes. Classic ballgown skirts and A-line cuts, adorned with delicate lacework or subtle beading, result in a sophisticated and ethereal look that exudes regal allure without being overly ornate. This trend appeals to modern brides seeking an elegant and graceful presence on their special day.

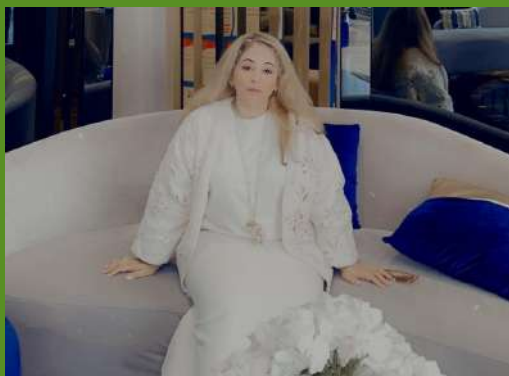

Sheer Romance: Illusion Necklines and Sleeves

For a touch of allure and romance, the trend of illusion necklines and sleeves is the perfect choice. Bridal couture embraces sheer fabrics adorned with delicate lace or intricate embroidery to create the illusion of a floating neckline or sleeves. From subtle V-necklines to daring plunges, and sheer sleeves ranging from full-length to three-quarter and cap sleeves, this style adds an element of mystery and sensuality to the bridal look. It's an enchanting option for modern romantic brides aiming to infuse their ensemble with ethereal charm.

Floral Fantasy: 3D Appliqués and Embroidery

Bridal couture is embracing the whimsical allure of floral-inspired 3D appliqués and embroidery, crafted from layers of organza, tulle, and silk. These intricate floral motifs seemingly bloom and dance across the gowns, adding depth and texture to the bridal ensemble. Whether scattered across the bodice or cascading down the skirt, these floral designs create an ethereal and romantic appearance. Brides who adore nature's beauty and seek a fairy-tale-like wedding will find this trend enchantingly captivating.

3D Appliques and Floral Design are Taking Over the Fashion Industry

Spring has become synonymous with florals not just in nature but in fashion too however, you don't have to wait for spring to get your florals out. And this season, flowers are getting an upgrade – they're going 3D.

We love the look of delicate floral appliques embroidered on everything from wedding- ready jumpsuits and going-out tops to eye-catching dresses and even purses.

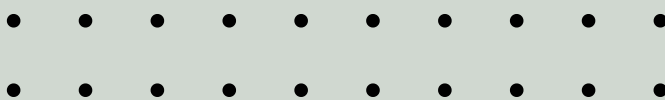

Traditional floral prints are a classic go-to in fashion, and designers are taking the motif to new heights, invigorating the sartorial blooms with sculptural 3D florals.

Fashion is going through a digital transformation, and these new 3D applique designs are being adopted by designers the world over.

Zeal Modi, an enthusiastic fashion student waiting to soft launch her brand Casper has hopped on the trend and believes this look will soon be available widely across stores.

She also wants to be one of the designers who makes these appliques available to the masses. She believes 'Fashion is the Armour to survive the reality of everyday life'.

Billionaires Ambani and Adani plan to build 25 GW of clean energy in Andhra Pradesh.

TECHNOLOGY

Indian billionaires Mukesh Ambani and Gautam Adani's conglomerates are making remarkable strides in the renewable energy sector, contributing to India's ambitious clean energy goals. Reliance Industries Ltd., led by Mukesh Ambani, and Adani Group, headed by Karan Adani, have pledged to develop a combined 25 gigawatts of renewable power in the southern Indian state of Andhra Pradesh. Reliance Industries aims to build 10 gigawatts of solar power, in line with Ambani's vision of investing $75 billion in green energy ventures. Meanwhile, Adani Group is committed to constructing 15 gigawatts of renewable capacity across five districts in the state, as part of its $70 billion investment plan that spans the entire renewable energy value chain.

Despite having built their empires in traditional industries such as petrochemicals, refining, and coal trading, both conglomerates are embracing sustainability and actively transitioning towards renewable energy. This shift not only aligns with global efforts to combat climate change but also sets a precedent for other industries to follow suit. Their significant presence in Andhra Pradesh will play a pivotal role in harnessing the state's rich solar and wind resources, further propelling India's renewable energy growth trajectory. As these billionaire-led companies spearhead the renewable energy movement, they are paving the way for a greener and more sustainable future for India and beyond.

The New-Age BWC Head and Eye Massager Is A Must For A Good Night's Sleep

The Prevalence Of A Sleep Problem

Sleep is a superpower, and multiple studies stress the importance of a good night's sleep. Sleep-related diseases and disorders like Sleep Apnea have become much too familiar. Our lifestyles revolve around our gadgets, and we always keep them with us, hindering our sleep patterns. Without a proper sleep cycle, we are all prone to high blood pressure, obesity and depression. According to a newly released study, India is the 2nd most sleep-deprived country on the planet, closely ranking behind Japan.

The Bhanushali Wellness Care (Dr BWC) Eye Massager is a new-age product that will help with Migraines, Eye Strain and Insomnia. The miraculous product utilises scientifically proven warmth, acupoint, and vibration massage technique that helps relieve headaches and reduce under-eye dark circles.

How Dr BWC Can Help Improve Sleep

It also plays a beautifully composed lyrical melody that induces sleep in a matter of minutes. The music and the massage complement each other, creating a serene environment for relaxing. You can also play your playlist as the massager is Bluetooth-enabled. The company also houses a 2 in 1 head and eye massager as well as a stand-alone scalp massager.

How To Win Friends And Influence People (Dale Carnegie)

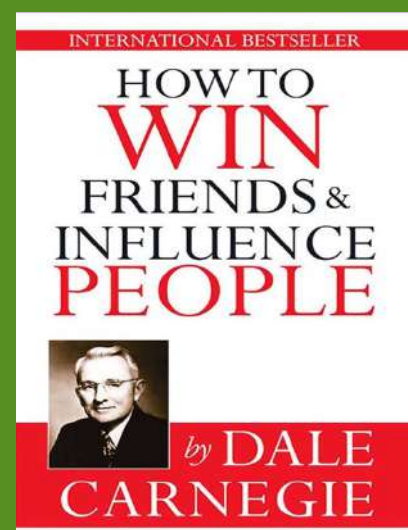

Winning friends in today's competitive world is one of life's biggest challenges. It is an art. How to Win Friends and Influence People explains that nowadays, people select friends, and one should have distinguished qualities to make someone want to befriend you. It sounds materialistic, but it is visible everywhere and in every walk of life. Influencing someone through one's personality is one of the mechanisms of gaining friends. This needs to be taught and practised. This book provides the basic skills to attract people and capture their goodwill and attention.

The book highlights human psychology and reveals to the reader the ways to connect with other auras of human existence and gradually influence one another.

A person's success comes from wealth, but a majority of it depends on how expressive a person is and how impressive he or she is. The book says that an impression is created only when a person makes others feel important or elevates them to a pedestal of significance. This is an art because at no point should the other person feel like you are manipulating him or her.

You can make more friends in two months by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to get other people interested in you.

What's the importance of the Month of Shravan in Hindu Religion?

Sawan, also known as Shravan, is a significant month in the Hindu religion and is associated with various religious and spiritual observances. It usually falls in July and August, according to the Hindu calendar. Devotees often observe fasting, perform rituals, and offer prayers to Lord Shiva during this month.

Here are some significant rituals followed by people during the month of Sawan.

- Devotion to Lord Shiva: Sawan is considered an auspicious month dedicated to Lord Shiva, one of the principal deities in Hinduism. Devotees engage in various religious practices, such as fasting, offering prayers, and visiting Shiva temples during this period.

- Rudrabhishek: Rudrabhishek is a special ritual performed during Sawan to worship Lord Shiva. It involves pouring milk, water, or other sacred substances over a Shiva Linga while chanting Vedic mantras and prayers.

- Festive Celebrations: Sawan is marked by various celebrations and cultural activities. Temples are beautifully decorated, and special programs, devotional music, and dance performances are organised to honour Lord Shiva. Many devotees participate in Bhajan-Kirtan (devotional singing) gatherings and engage in spiritual discourses.

- Fasting: Many individuals observe fasting during Sawan as an act of devotion. They abstain from consuming non-vegetarian food and other food items, often limiting their diet to fruits, milk, and vegetarian meals.

- Kanwar Yatra: One of the prominent events during Sawan is the Kanwar Yatra. Devotees, known as Kanwariyas, take pilgrimages to sacred rivers, especially the Ganges (Ganga), to collect holy water. They carry decorated poles (Kanwars) on their shoulders and offer the holy water to Lord Shiva in their local temples.

With Climate Change At Its Peak, The Architectural Industry Is Giving Rise To Resilient Design.

JULY EDITION

HAPPY PLACE

With climate change throwing urban planning for a toss, 2023 is witness to how excessive rainfall can disrupt an economy. Logistics and transport are the worst hit, with other industries like chemicals and textiles following close behind. With the adverse effects of climate change at their peak, the architectural industry has given rise to Resilient Design.

Resilient Design refers to designing buildings and infrastructure to withstand and adapt to various stressors, including natural disasters, climate change, and other unforeseen challenges. It aims to create structures and spaces that can bounce back, recover, and function effectively despite adverse events.

Key Principles of Resilient Design

- Risk Assessment
- Redundancy
- Flexibility and Adaptability
- Robust Construction
- Connectivity and Reducing Vulnerability
- Sustainable Strategies
- Community Engagement

Example Of Resilient Infrastructure In India

Climate-proofing India's road network is vital to secure sustainable development. After the devastating floods, the GOI launched the $500 million Green National Highways Corridor Project (GNHCP) to mainstream resilient and green technology for national highways nationwide.

They are constructing nearly 781 km of climate-resilient highways across four key states – Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh – by 2024.

For the construction of the GNHCP, the GOI and the World Bank have signed an agreement, informed Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways, Nitin Gadkari, in a written reply in the Rajya Sabha.

They have made provisions for the incorporation of natural resources. The highway will use a cement-treated sub-base/reclaimed asphalt pavement, use local materials such as fly ash, waste plastic, lime, bio-engineering measures for slope protection such as hydroseeding, coco/jute fibre, etc.

This is a step in the right direction to safeguard the livelihood of millions of people whose lives are completely uprooted in affected areas.

Personality of the Month

Sudesh Chhawchharia from Sharda Enterprise

Sharda Enterprise, a partnership firm founded in 2010, specializes in yarn trading and holds dealerships of prominent companies. The firm's partners, Mr. Ramavtar Shreelal Mittal, Ravindranath Virendranath Gaur, and Shilpa Sudesh Chhawchharia, share equal profits. Over the last decade, they have built a loyal customer base and market presence. Now, with the goal of expansion, they plan to capitalize on their established market and customer relationships.

Unique Selling Point (USP)

Sharda Enterprise distinguishes itself by direct dealings with end customers, eliminating intermediaries and offering a personal touch. Acting as purchasing consultants, they provide valuable guidance in a sentiment-driven market with significant price fluctuations, contributing to their remarkable growth rate.

Vision, Mission, and Values

Their vision is to become a leading national trading firm for MMF (Man-Made Fiber) and deliver quality textile products at competitive prices, fostering long-term partnerships. Their mission revolves around trading top-notch products to offer customers a competitive edge and spread smiles. Empowerment, efficiency, integrity, and honesty form the core values of the enterprise.

Success in Surat's Textile Hub

Operating in Surat, a renowned textile hub in India, Sharda Enterprise has thrived and earned a stellar reputation in just 13 years. Their dedication to loyalty and quality ensures a promising future for the firm. Positive Day Newspaper proudly represents Sharda Enterprise and celebrates their accomplishments.

LAW

Surat's Legal Landscape is set to Change with its First Boutique Law Firm: Lexicon Legal

Surat City is rapidly emerging as a leading corporate hub, and one of the key drivers of this transformation is its strategic location. The presence of Lexicon Legal, a boutique law firm in Surat, adds specialized legal expertise to the city, supporting the growth and development of local businesses by providing tailored legal solutions that address their unique challenges and opportunities. The firm's services also attract new investment opportunities and offer a platform for local entrepreneurs to access legal advice and support for their ventures, thereby contributing significantly to the city's overall economic growth.

Gujarat has always been at the forefront of the Indian Economic Liberalisation Movement, and the state government has been proactive in implementing reforms to attract foreign investment and promote entrepreneurship. Initiatives like the Gujarat Industrial Development Corporation have created a conducive environment for corporates to flourish. Lexicon Legal plays a vital role in this ecosystem with its deep understanding of the legal landscape in Surat and across India. INDIAN RUG

Expert Tips from The Indian Rug for Selecting the Perfect Rug to Transform Your Space

When it comes to interior design, few elements have the power to transform a space as effectively as a well-chosen rug. However, with an overwhelming array of options available, selecting the perfect rug for your home can be a daunting task. Fear not! In this article, we'll share expert tips to guide you through the process of rug selection.

Choosing the right rug involves two key steps:

Considering the room's purpose and selecting the appropriate size. For high-traffic areas like living rooms and entryways, durable materials like wool or synthetic blends are ideal.

On the other hand, plush rugs add comfort to bedrooms. Ensure the rug extends beyond furniture edges in the living room to anchor the seating area, and for dining rooms, pick a size that accommodates the table and chairs, even when pulled out.

Embrace the Power of Layering:

Layering rugs is a trendy and practical option, especially if you have an existing rug that you love but want to refresh the look. Pair a smaller, patterned rug on top of a larger neutral one to create depth and visual interest. Just ensure the patterns and colors complement each other to avoid a clash.

Mind the Pile Height:

The pile height, or thickness, of a rug affects not only its appearance but also its functionality. Low-pile rugs work well in high-traffic areas as they are easy to clean and less likely to trap dirt. On the other hand, high-pile rugs add a luxurious, cozy feel to spaces like bedrooms and sitting areas.

Embrace the power of rug selection, and watch as your home comes to life with warmth, comfort, and style. Happy rug hunting!

The Philosophical Question

No moment is either happy or sad; it's just a moment, moment by moment. Every moment is like an empty page!... What to write on it is in your hands.

You write happiness on it, and it will become happiness. You write worry on it, and it will become worry. You write contentment on it, and you will feel content. You write anger on it, and you will become angry. You write violence on it, and it will become violent. Whatever you think, it will manifest...

>>> A MOMENT IS LIKE FLOWING WATER. WHATEVER YOU MIX IN IT WILL BECOME THAT. <<<

Whatever you wrote on the moment, it will transform instantly. That moment will become a thought, a belief, and this belief will shape your circumstances, and these circumstances create outcomes.

We believe that circumstances are, in themselves, a result that comes before us, whether good or bad, and sometimes there seems to be no remedy or escape from them.

MAYBE NOT, AND MAYBE...

We must also understand and accept what has happened, is happening, and will happen to us, which we might be unaware of, but we must have written something in those moments, consciously or unconsciously. Some great souls connect it with karma. But even karma was created in some moment, whether in a past life or in this life...!! The moment belonged to us, and the thought must have been ours, right?

So... what kind of circumstances are you hoping for? That's why I believe that we must first understand the creation of circumstances.

We must search for that moment in which we wrote something. Whether it was just now, today, long ago, or a very long time ago...! Something must have been written on that moment which gave birth to a thought in our minds, and from that thought, these circumstances emerged, and the outcome is right in front of us. When you find that moment, you will understand what you wrote.

>>> NOW COME BACK TO THIS "MOMENT" ... THIS PRESENT MOMENT ...

And think the opposite... What result do you want?

Now think about what kind of circumstances are required for that result to happen? What kind of thinking is needed to create such circumstances?

Just write down this thought, this belief, in this present moment...

The process of creating the right circumstances will begin, and the possibility of the right outcome will increase.

An Inspirational Story From Niraj Viradiya

H A P P Y L I F E

A school teacher noticed that one of her students was making all his drawings with the colour black. One day the kid got his drawing to the teacher and proudly displayed it to her. The teacher noticed once again that the whole picture was coloured black.

So the teacher asked, “What is this?” and the student replied, “Can’t you see? These are black mountains, a black sun, a black river and black trees. As well as black grass and black flowers”.

The teacher felt surprised and anxious looking at his work, and she got worried about the child’s mental state. She decided she needed to do something about it and took all the drawings to the school’s principal to consult him on the matter. The principal shared the same sentiment the teacher felt while looking at the child’s work.

He decided he needed to get the child analysed and called in a psychotherapist to meet with the kid. Upon meeting the child, the psychotherapist asked him various questions, like “Where do you live? What do you do? Who are your neighbours? What are your friends like? What sort of TV programs do you watch?”. Based on his answers, the psychotherapist produced a report and presented it to the principal.

A peon was observing all this drama unfold and, unable to control his curiosity any longer, decided to ask the child, “Hey kid, why do you choose to make all your drawings black?” and the child peevishly replied that he had misplaced his brand new set of colours and was scared to ask his parents for another one. So the peon got a box of colours from the storage room, handed it to the child, and watched the kid make a new drawing filled with bright and vibrant colours.

NGO Kamakhya

Kamakhya, a social enterprise based in Surat, is dedicated to creating an eco-friendly environment for safe and hygienic periods. Representing India at the 'Queen's Commonwealth Trust,' Kamakhya has led successful campaigns to raise awareness about menstrual health and break period taboos. Their efforts extend to both urban and rural areas, impacting the lives of over 500 underprivileged individuals and training 500 rural menstruators. They conduct educational sessions in schools and colleges, aiming to dispel myths about menstruation and promote sustainable period products like cloth pads, biodegradable pads, and menstrual cups. With initiatives like 'Period on the Go,' they aim to increase access to these products and reduce the stigma around periods. Kamakhya envisions a future where open conversations about periods are normalized without hesitation or shame, recognizing menstruation as a natural phenomenon and a source of strength.

Rotary Surat Seaface

Surat has multiple Rotary clubs, and Surat Seaface is one of them. They partake in numerous activities across fields like health, education and conservation. Recently they took a pond cleanup upon themselves. Rotarians and staff from PEPL (Palsana Enviro Protection Limited), who woke up early at 5 am to drive 20 kilometers to a village to clean a pond. Despite the initial reluctance of some participants, they were well-prepared with hand gloves, masks, shovels, and waste bags for the task. The village leaders supported their efforts, and a JCB was also used to assist in cleaning. After the successful cleanup, the group visited PEPL, where they received a presentation about the organization's environmental work. Join Rotary Surat Seaface to participate in similar drives that improve our surroundings and our society.

NGO Project Surat

NGO Project Surat is a beacon of hope in the bustling city of Surat, India, dedicated to improving the lives of its residents and addressing environmental challenges. Rapid urbanization and industrial growth have led to pollution and waste issues, but the NGO has responded with various climate drives. Their primary objective is to create a sustainable and eco-friendly environment by promoting awareness and sustainable practices. Notably, they focus on waste management, organizing collection drives and encouraging recycling practices to reduce environmental degradation. The NGO also emphasizes tree plantation and urban greening to combat air pollution and enhance the city's green cover. Their efforts to promote renewable energy adoption have reduced the carbon footprint. A key aspect of their success is collaborative action with local communities, educational institutions, and businesses. Through partnerships and programs, they foster environmental consciousness and social responsibility. NGO Project Surat's work has significantly improved the city's cleanliness, reduced pollution, and created a more sustainable and livable environment, thanks to the efforts of socially responsible citizens.
